

Addenda to Terms and Conditions for Celebrity Tours

1. Any information on group size given is accurate at time of enquiry and not indicative of the final group size. The final group size is determined by the Company and subject to change. It may not be used to dispute, amend or cancel the booking. However and as far as possible, the Company will make reasonable effort to ensure the Customer has a fair and equitable tour experience. If the Customer feels that his/her enjoyment may be diminished by the bigger than his/her desired group size, it is the responsibility of the Customer to make known to the Company prior to booking.
2. Distinction in pricing of the Celebrity Tours by the Company and other similar itineraries, if any, stems from itinerary enhancement with value-added inclusions, such as but not limited to better accommodations, meals and any other special or exclusive arrangements. It is the responsibility of the Customer to have all distinctions clarified prior to booking.
3. The Company is not responsible for the differences in perception by the Customer on any upgrade in meals due to individual palette preferences.
4. The Celebrity's foremost responsibility is to interact with the Customer according to scheduled appearances. The Celebrity is not licensed to lead nor guide a tour.
5. The Customer may not get to see the Celebrity at all times. However and as far as possible, the Company will make reasonable effort to ensure the interactive opportunities allocated to the Customer are fair and equitable. The Company makes no representation or guarantee concerning the amount of time the Customer can spend with the Celebrity.
6. While the Celebrity is engaged to interact with the Customer in a professional manner, the Customer is requested to observe proper decorum at all times and give the Celebrity his/her privacy during rest hours.
7. Should the Customer have any complaint, instead of the Celebrity, he/she should first inform the tour leader or the tour guide upon occurrence to seek resolution without delay based on the principle of mitigation of losses and damages.
8. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that photographs and videos taken of the Customer during the tour will be used by the Company for marketing communications purposes. If the Customer does not want to be photographed and filmed at all, it is the responsibility of the Customer to make known to the Company prior to booking.
9. The Customer agrees to accept and comply with the Terms and Conditions including addenda to the Terms and Conditions or bear all costs or losses incurred as a consequence of non-compliance.
